

ORANGE COUNTY TRANSITION COUNCIL MEETING 2023

The Orange County Transition Council is a group of voluntary members including individuals from Orange County school districts, state agencies, community based organizations, post-secondary education programs, and parent groups.

Each key stakeholder contributes unique perspectives during monthly meetings to facilitate a student-centered collaborative effort among families, schools, agencies and community to create stronger partnerships for students to successfully transition from school to adult life.

We welcome you to attend or send a representative to engage in important discussions on supports, services and opportunities for students with disabilities.
